PRESS RELEASE

Mr Fothergill's Latest Catalogue an Aquatic Plantsman's Paradise (MRF573)

Mr Fothergill's newly published, 32-page Viresco® and Aquatic Plant Catalogue 2016 includes not only the range of eponymous pond water improvement products, but also a greatly extended selection of choice aquatic, marginal, damp ground and shade-loving plants to tempt the most discerning of plantsmen and plantswomen.

Oxygenators and floating plants are essential for providing a natural control of unsightly blanketweed and algae, plus affording protection for fish. Additions to the range for 2016 include Lilaeopsis brasiliensis (micro sword) and Ranunculus aquatilis (water crowfoot).

Water lilies are the most majestic and beautiful of aquatic plants and with 23 varieties on offer any pond keeper is spoilt for choice. Scented and richly coloured blooms sit above shade-creating foliage. The lilies are offered in one, two- or three-litre pots, with those in three-litre pots blooming in the year of planting, and the range also includes dwarf varieties for small ponds.

Mr Fothergill's range of moisture- and shade-loving plants is ideal for bog gardens and close to a pond's edge to create a more natural look; it includes elegant ferns, dwarf and giant gunneras, and native primulas. Marginal and damp ground plants on offer include Carex alata Aurea (golden sedge), Cyperus longus (sweet galingale) and beautiful lilies such as Ann Chowning, Her Highness and the native yellow flag. The plant range is completed by several attractive, native wild flowers, which attract butterflies and beneficial insects. All potted aquatic plants are supplied in mesh baskets, so there is no need to re-pot before placing in the pond.

The catalogue also offers wildlife-attracting flowers from the RSPB seed range, pond equipment and even the opportunity to have a hive of bumblebees in the garden.
