Water Forms protective mat
(Will not wash out or blow away)

The swollen wool pellets form a felt — like mat that absorbs moisture from the slug's foot, thereby making it difficult for the slug to reach access. This wool pellet mat also contains a natural repellent which deters slugs and snails from easily deterring the slug and creating a 100% natural barrier.

For best results, apply Slug Gone in a 10cm band round the base of the plant.

The wool pellet mat is excellent at keeping the surface of the pot dry but retaining the moisture beneath. This means that weeds have difficulty germinating on the surface and frequency of watering can be reduced to reduce evaporation.

Slug Gone is a natural biodegradable protein fibre which releases nitrogen, potassium, sulphur and other trace elements essential for plant growth.
